RIDERS EDUCATION

BOB & KAREN DRESS FOR THE SLIDE NOT THE RIDE!!!

Pre-Fall

Well, it is that time of the year. We are seeing those “yellow big boxes” on the highways and byways. That must mean that summer is over and fall is upon us.

We still have some really good riding days ahead of us as the weather will start to cool down and will be giving us some beautiful days of riding. We need to remember to dress a little warmer. If we are out early of the morning, start watching for “Black Ice”. Watch those shaded spots and bridges that we cross. The early morning hours can be dangerous. Even a road covered in leaves can be dangerous as you cannot see that pile of loose gravel that the leaves are covering or what other dangers that are lurking there.

Fall rides can be a lot of fun in that we get to see all the colors and clear blue skies. But we also have a lot of four legged animals on the move as this is hunting season and the animals are being pushed around the woods. Be on watch as you travel.

Oh yes, those “yellow big boxes” means the kids are out in force going to and from school. Be alert when you are in residential areas along with school zones. The “yellow big boxes” have professionals behind the wheel but they too make mistakes. Don’t let their mistake cost you.

Hopefully we can get in a few more rides before the season totally comes to an end. I know our bike has not had enough miles put on it for this year. Be careful enjoy your rides. A few more minutes on the road is worth the time you take to arrive safe as your destination.
